

Healthy futures: genomics & beyond

A future where personalised healthcare is the norm could deliver benefits to all, but how can genomics and other science and technology deliver it, and what challenges stand in the way? PHG Foundation's Annual Conference will bring together expert speakers to explore the possible shape of our healthy futures and the path to get us there.

- Robert C. Green, MD, MPH - Director, Genomes2People Research Programme / Professor of Medicine (Genetics), Harvard Medical School
- Chief Scientific Officer, Prof Sue Hill OBE
- Chief Medical Officer, Prof Dame Sally Davies
- Parallel sessions exploring policy and people issues
- Plenty of time for Q&A, discussion and networking

The benefits of being a supporter

Promote your presence to health professionals, policy makers, patients, industry, scientists and others

Raise your profile within the personalised and genomic medicine sector

Gain significant social media coverage

Support our vision for all citizens to benefit from biomedical innovations

PHG Foundation are delighted to offer the following packages. Maximise your objectives and business development, while supporting our vision for all citizens to benefit from biomedical innovations.

If you have any bespoke requirements, get in touch with Dr John Chevers at john.chevers@phgfoundation.org

Platinum (Exclusive)

£3000

- Introduction from Chair
- Single exhibition stand or private lunch room
- VIP speaker dinner at King's College (one place)
- Signage on event branding
- Sponsored branded lunch
- Logo on website / promotional emails
- Half page advertisement in the programme
- Leaflet in sponsor pack
- 3 complimentary passes to the conference

"Good range of speakers, panels and networking. An enjoyable day, thank you"

Delegate
2016 Conference

Gold (Up to five)

£1000

- Logo on programme
- Logo on website / promotional emails
- Leaflet in sponsor pack
- 2 complimentary passes to the conference

Silver (Unlimited)

£750

- Leaflet in sponsor pack
- 1 complimentary pass to the conference

Venue: Gillespie Centre, Clare College, Cambridge

Contact: Dr John Chevers, Head of Business Development
john.chevers@phgfoundation.org or 01223 761 909